

Hello medical people of awesomeness!!

Along with the rest of the nation, we thank you for continuing to look after us.

These have not been sterilised.

We figured you are the experts, and wanted you to be comfortable with your own sterilisation methods should you choose to do that. We have taken every precaution to keep clean manufacturing environments, and minimise any handling with bare hands. But please remember these have been made in people's homes, garages, offices and workshops.
